THE LATEST election news will be found in our telegraphic columns.

THE crowing of the Democratic chickens since last Tuesday has been without intermission, and is actually deafening. They ought to have "a little manners," notwithstanding BUTLER'S cock-eye!

THE American people for the next few days will talk election and think of nothing else. The deluge that has swept the land has found a responsive echo in the bosom of every lover of peace and order in the country.

Upon our third page this morning will be found a well-written letter from the pen of the Hon. Jno. MANNING, of Chatham, to the Wilmington Journal, advocating the call of a Convention. Mr. MANNING is a forcible writer, and his views are entitled to the careful consideration of the people.

"Water Will Seek Its Level."

MR. GASTON is elected in Massachusetts over THOMAS TALBOT by a majority now estimated at 8,000.

Patience and perseverance, coupled with unsullied integrity of character and fidelity to the principles upon which the whole fabric of the Constitution (as framed by its founders) rests and liberty itself, will ultimately triumph. With unswerving devotion to State Rights, and a sympathy for the sufferings as well as the rights of his fellow-citizens in the South, Mr. G. has many times heretofore been a candidate in his section of his State for various positions in opposition to the general sentiment of his people, and when his hopes of election were dark and gloomy.

Thank God! he has convinced the people of Massachusetts of their error, and will have an opportunity to use his talents and patriotism in a higher sphere, for his patriotic heart is too large to be embraced by only one State. North Carolina and the South can rejoice with the good people of Massachusetts. They are not as bad as they were thought to be, and are excepting Best Butler—the Devil's representative on earth. No doubt they've been misled by political aspirants, and will hereafter exercise their real judgment, and respect constitutional liberty, and with it, of course, State Rights to the great comfort of their fellow-citizens in the South.

The Defeat of Butler.

No feature of the late elections is so grateful to the people of the South as the defeat of BENJAMIN F. BUTLER. False to every instinct of virtuous humanity, and the friend in Congress of every thief who was plundering the National Treasury, his overwhelming defeat is a cause of profound joy to every honest man and a tribute to the morality and honor of Massachusetts. But it is on account of his malignant venom towards the Southern people that we chiefly rejoice at his overthrow. Since his infamous military reign in the cities of New Orleans and Norfolk, his name has been a by-word among us, for all that is villainous and despicable in the character of man. A murderer, a foul calumniator, who used his mental powers in furtherance of his vile passions, BUTLER, the Beast! Thank God for his overthrow! It came to us so unexpectedly that at first we could scarcely credit the welcome news. Even now we fail to measure the full depth of our satisfaction. It is so good, so refreshing, so delicious, so exquisitely gratifying, so exalting, that words fail us. His voice always raised in defence of wrong, shall be hushed. His hands always ready to aid in any corrupt scheme of plunder, shall be tied. His influence always exerted in behalf of tyranny, is gone. He is beaten down in his own home and among his own people. Slinking away into the thorny retirement of his private life, a leper now in American politics, let him be left, like Arnold, to the avenging lashes of his own conscience, a Pariah among men.

The most popular man in the country to-day, doubtless, is Mr. CHAS. P. THOMPSON, the man who defeated BEN. BUTLER on Thursday. Should Mr. THOMPSON visit the South now, he would be received everywhere with open arms, and no where with more enthusiasm than in Louisiana. Let him visit the old war grounds of the Beast, and he will see something of the glories of his victory.

We wonder if GRANT fancied the "unloading" of Tuesday, or was it done in too heavy a scale to make certain his third-term?

Tuesday's Victory.

We desired giving this morning something like a summary of Tuesday's election, but cannot do so with accuracy. Enough is known at this writing to show that the whole country has undergone a political revolution, unsurpassed in its extent and purport by any similar event since the foundation of the government, giving a rebuke more forcible than could have been hoped for to the Republican party and its exponents at Washington, and at once sweeping cutting loose the damnable shackles with which a large part of the people of this country have been fettered for so many long and weary years. Massachusetts has positively repudiated the lead of such men as BUTLER, has overthrown Republicanism in its strongest hold, and has placed in command of the State a man who will have the respect of the country and who can himself feel that the "hub" does not comprise the whole universe. All glory, say we, to Massachusetts for the victory it has just achieved over a party whose rottenness has become a stench in the nostrils of its own people.

Per contra, a most fitting rebuke has been administered to GRANT'S administration by the noble manner in which Louisiana has acted—a State peculiarly the hate of GRANT and his minions, a people that have felt and endured every indignity that could be put upon them—they have spoken in thunder tones, even while the bayonet's clang was in their ears, and the State is virtually redeemed from Radical rule and oppression, and her people will have a voice and a hearing in the next Congress.

Alabama has nobly responded to the call made upon her citizens, and the infamous doings of the no less infamous HESTER and the other minions of GRANT in that State have been rebuked in a most unmistakable manner. The gallant Houstons have been made Governor by a large majority, and LEWIS, the PARSONS, the BINGHAMS, the WHITES, the PELHAMs and the other Radical leaders and intriguers have been utterly routed, and will know no more forever the places they have fattened upon for the last ten years.

Virginia has gained two and probably three Congressmen, has elected some of her best men to Congress, and has done her work well. All hail to our sister State.

New York has wheeled into line with her powerful vote, and has placed herself ready for the contest of 1876. The defeat of DIX by TILDEN is considered certain, but by what majority is not known at the time of this writing.

South Carolina made a desperate struggle to throw off the ignominious yoke which has oppressed her people, but we fear the power by which it was held was too strong to be burst asunder just yet. The infamous CHAMBERLAIN will doubtless rule the State in the same manner that has characterized his predecessor MOSKES.

From every quarter comes the good tidings of Democratic victories, and we need fear no reversal of the welcome news. The "hand-writing on the wall" has had the effect of sweeping from power and place a party that has shown itself too dishonest to act for the good of the people and too heartless to feel for the wants of the distressed of the land.

It is estimated, from the returns thus far received, that the next National House of Representatives will have a Democratic majority of from 10 to 30. This will prove a most effectual check upon the mis-doings of the GRANT power.

The Missouri State Grange wants to throw over the present manufacturers of the State and have things a little its own way. But it don't expect to do so. To do so, it would have to overthrow the present manufacturers now supplying the needs of the farmers is easy enough. The difficulty is in getting their places supplied. The first idea was that the State Grange should go into the business itself. So it appointed a committee and a very hard headed and sensible committee too.

"Personally, it is with great regret that we come to the conclusion to advise the prosecution of this enterprise in the form of manufacturing directly by the Grange. It would be a proud thing for us to be at the head of a great business scheme that was to benefit every farmer in the State; and if, after looking at the matter in every possible point of view, there could be any chance to make manufacturing directly by the Patrons a success, we would be willing to devote all our energies and make great sacrifices for its accomplishment, as we are enthusiastic in the cause of the Grange. To benefit the people who are the foundation of all that is good on earth—the farmers, the men who make the bread for the millions—would be a grand wind-up to the successful business career of any man; but we cannot conscientiously recommend a scheme which contains so many of the elements of failure."

There is a "war of races" in Europe. German and Frenchman do not mingle. Schools and hotels in common are not always popular. At Guebwiller, Madame Blane is the owner and hostess of a hotel. Some Germans applied for lodging. Madame would have taken them, but her other boarders were Alsations, they threatened to leave if the Germans were admitted. So Madame refused. She had a perfect right to do so if she did not keep a regular inn. But one of the Germans in authority thought differently. So he wrote and threatened to close the establishment. They want a civil rights bill in Alsace-Lorraine.

The Fatal Riot at Eufala, Ala., on Tuesday.

A special dispatch from Eufala, Ala., under date of Tuesday, gives the following particulars of the fatal disturbance which occurred there that day:

"The disturbance was quite sanguinary. Six whites were wounded—one of them, William Keith, mortally. Three negroes were killed outright, and as far as heard from seventy-four were wounded—ten or fifteen of the number mortally. Since the fight five have died, and three or four more will die during the night. The difficulty grew out of the abuse of a negro who had voted the Democratic ticket by several Radical gentlemen rushed up when they saw the abuse being heaped upon the Democratic negro, and when he had received several blows they rushed in and ordered the mob to desist. Milas Long offered to draw a pistol on one of the whites, when he was not drawn a weapon upon them, as he would be killed. With an oath against the whites, and daring them to come on, he drew out his pistol and fired. In an instant a general fire from both whites and blacks commenced, which the latter stood for second or two, and then gave way in one of the wildest stampedes ever witnessed on our streets.

There were probably five hundred shots fired by both sides. A majority of the whites being armed with revolvers, the negroes came in from the country armed with pistols, heavy clubs, wheel spokes, etc. They were very aggressive upon those of their color who voted the Democratic ticket. For a few seconds after the firing ceased the negroes began to mass for a renewal of the fight, but seeing that the whites were arming to receive them they again scattered, and quiet was soon restored.

A special train on the Pennsylvania railroad performed a feat which deserves to be recorded as something altogether phenomenal. The train was composed of three drawing room cars, with Vice President Cassatt, General Manager Thompson and several superintendents of western railways, as passengers—the object of the expedition being to obtain the fastest speed possible between Philadelphia and New York. The train left Philadelphia precisely at 8:40, and reached Jersey City at 10:24, accomplishing ninety-six miles in one hour and fifty minutes. The quickest time made was from Philadelphia to Trenton, thirty miles, in thirty-nine minutes.

THE DICTATES OF COMMON SENSE.—Persons who in most things are prompt to obey the dictates of common sense, too often neglect them when they point to the necessity of promptly re-vitalizing the debilitated body and mind. And yet how foolish and dangerous it is to neglect such momentous duties! Disease follows closely on the track of weakness and exhaustion. Arrest his silent but rapid march by prompt invigoration. The most reliable agent that can be selected for this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a palatable hygienic elixir which possesses the true qualities for toning, regulating and tranquillizing the body and mind, and which, besides, the clearest remedy of the American people for relieving weakness or disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, as well as the numerous array of complaints which ultimately follow derangements of these organs.

A RESTORATIVE.

The Best Hair Dressing Ever Known.

From the Secretary Board of Publication:

The Xanthine is the only hair dressing I have ever used which removed the dandruff from the scalp and made my hair soft and pliable. It has also restored my hair to its original color, and by occasionally using it as a dressing, the color will be preserved. E. T. BAKER, Richmond, Va., July 25, 1874.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., June 12, 1874.

Dear Sir:—I have used the Xanthine for one year, and find it answers the purpose it is prepared for. I had used other preparations for the same purpose, viz: but was compelled to abandon them, because they affected my system, gave me rheumatism and neuralgia. Xanthine, however, has not had this effect; on the contrary, has been beneficial in this respect. Hoping that you may be successful in its sale, I am, your truly, N. N. E. WADDELL.

From the Rev. Charles H. Read, D. D., Pastor Grace street Presbyterian Church, Richmond, Va.

At a suggestion and presentation of a friend, I have used a bottle of Professor Herber's Hair Restorative, "Xanthine." It has accomplished in a very brief time, without any perceptible unpleasant or injurious effect, all that is claimed for it as a restorer of the natural color of hair, turning gray, C. H. READ, Richmond, July 20, 1874.
